Students Begin Sketches for Fiesta Parade

Fantastic color designs for decorating San Pedro's fleet for the Fishermen's Fiesta Oct. 1 and 2 again are on the drawing boards at Harbor Junior College. Bill Bullock, fiesta chairman, dropped in on Instructor Harold H. Jones' class on a recent evening to get the students started on the project. Last year many of the boats used the plans drawn up by Harbor Tech students in decorating the colorful boats.

This year's parade theme is "Toyland Parade," a theme which fiesta officials say will offer a wide range of imaginative decoration ideas including the Jack-in-the-box, Punch and Judy, the talking doll, the wooden soldier, and many others.

The sea-going pageant, broadcast for years by radio and television this year, officials report. The parade is rated the third most photographed spectacle in America.

YMCA Offers Sign-Ups for Exotic Camp

A long-term campaign program in an "exotic" setting is offered this year by the Los Angeles YMCA, it was announced by Stan Roberts, executive secretary of the organization's Torrance Branch.

This is the sixth year the Y has operated Camp Mozumdar, originally built for religious worship by an Indian prince who was a devoted Christian.

With a program designated for boys nine to 14 years old, Mozumdar has quarters for recreation and dining, a tiled swimming pool, an outdoor amphitheater overlooking the vast Mojave desert and to add to the setting, a temple built to resemble the Taj Mahal.

The camp is located in the Crestline area of the San Bernardino mountains. Boys can stay for two, four, or six weeks.

The program includes swimming, hiking, horseback riding, rifle range activity, archery, overnight camping trips. Parents wishing to send their boys should contact the Torrance Y, where they will be given folders and put in touch with Camp Mozumdar officials.
